MONTAGUE.
(Special Correspondence to the Press.)
MONTAGUE, Feb. 23.—News is scarce, but thieves are plenty, or thefts rather. The latest to suffer from midnight cutters are Dan Predmore who lost 10 fowls, Mrs. J. Kerr 8, John D. Van Auken 4, Robert Armstrong several full flooded brahma roosters, Mrs. M. J. Vannoy 2 bags of feed, Geo. Armstrong's smoke house was relieved of all its contents, and the barn of E. de Salgiano was broken open on the night of the 21, but what is missing I haven't heard.
Before long some one residing near the bridge will be surprised.
Town meeting will be held at Tappan-town of March 10th.
Your item in last week's Press on the Centerville church was a good one. Fan fiction is noted for its school and church fights of late, and where will it end? and who will be benefited by it?
So Westfall township came very near going Republican last Tuesday

It must be hard on "I Sickles" but the Democrats of Pike are getting used to it by degrees.

Altogether will soon leave us and take up his residence near Paterson.

The different country papers are full of letters to the editors about high taxes, when valuation of real estate has gone down to almost nothing. Montague is pretty well blessed with taxes I think. The taxes here are about as high as in any township in the county and nothing to show for it, only bills.

E. de Salgiano, the owner of the Springdale farm has sold two tracts of land, 12 and 21 acres respectively to New York parties who intend in the near future to erect a boarding house. Mr. de Salgiano is the owner of considerable flat land opposite to Milford, which he intends to dispose of in 6 acres lots at $225 each. Another Tuxedo if he finds buyers and I hope he will.

Sherry shod horses have been in great demand this week, and also expects to build the morning fires. The boys got ready for a real old fashioned serenade Thursday, but the birds had flown.

Any person who turns horses out to pasture in such weather as we had last week is a fit object for prosecution.

The Board of Education, of this town, at their meeting last Wednesday made the following estimates of money necessary to run the four schools of this town outside the State appropriation which is about $1,300. For three flags, $48; for fuel, $125; for painting and repairing School No. 1, $60; for roofing and building chimney at No. 2, $40; for coal house for No. 2, $30; blackboard for No. 2, $8; painting No. 3, $25; roofing No. 4, $50; for text books, $300. DICK.

A party of young people expect to attend the social to be held at Ryle to-night.

DINGMAN'S FERRY.
(Special Correspondence to the Press.)
DINGMAN'S FERRY Feb. 24.—The snow is about gone, and the roads are in a bad condition, neither sleighing or wagoning.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Leberer gave a leap year party at their residence last week. All had a grand time.

Edwin McMurray, of Centre has returned home, after a few days visit with his sister, Mrs. F. B. Fletcher, of Milford.

John H. Vater has taken the contract to furnish the telephone poles for the new line to be built from Dingman's Ferry to Egypt Mills, by the Van Eiten brothers of Conshohocken.

NEW TYPE MACHINE.
A Scranton Citizen Claims to Have Invented a Better and Distributor—
Scranton Feb. 25.—A resident of this city has invented a machine for setting and distributing type which he claims will revolutionize the setting of type, especially in small offices where there would be no saving in the use of Linotype or the other machines now in use. The inventor claims that his type setting machine will not be more than twice as large as a typewriter and that the distributing machine will not be a great deal larger than the type setter. Both are operated on the typewriter principle, and the inventor says they can be manufactured cheap enough to allow the two machines to be sold for $600.

A Letter From a Democrat.
DINGMAN'S FERRY, Feb. 24, '96.
EDITOR PRESS—Sir: Tammany is in mourning. The old warhorse is gone. His friends brought him on the turf on the morning of election Feb. 18 for a three years term more, and declared he could not be beaten. No pools were sold on him, but they bet cigars and a little red eye that he would win. They groomed him with the beverage he usually takes, and which is apt to make a man's head swim. In the afternoon they began to grow uneasy. The braves looked toward the setting sun, and wished they were Joshua that they could command it to stand still while they fought the battle. Alas it was too late, the board declared that the Republican candidate was the successor to the saddle and bridle of the war horse, by a majority of three votes. This was more than the schemers could bear. J. B. exclaimed it was tough medicine to take for a man to be beaten by his own party.

The old vet sat on a box moaning that his head would burst. Dr. Hawk used liniment to bathe that aching member but it was in vain. Ran stood beside his dying friend saying he would never enter another Democratic caucus for it was composed of traitors to the party. Next some day the Tammany Democrats said some very mean things about their back-sliding friends.

In fact it was language such as is not heard in Sunday schools and we forbear to repeat it. We are happy to say to our Democratic friends that the Republicans this year of grace send their first constable from this township, and we have no doubt but that our candidate, Joseph D. Brooks, will fill the position with such dignity and credit not only to himself but to his party that they will readily join us in the future in sending as a representative of this township to appear before the honorable court a man of sober demeanor.

DELAWARE DEMOCRAT.
A Memorial Tribute.
There is no death! The stars go down To rise upon some fairer shore. And bright in heaven's jeweled crown They shine for evermore.

There is no death! The dust we tread Shall change beneath the summer shower To golden grain or mellow fruit, Or rainbow tinted flowers.

There is no death! The leaves may fall, The flowers may fade and pass away; They only wait, through wintry hours, The coming of the May.

There is no death! An angel form Walks o'er the earth with silent tread; He hears our best-loved things away, And then we call them "dead."

PAUPAC Feb. 24.—We are happy to say our invalids are slowly improving.

Mrs. B. F. Killam returned to her home last Saturday.

Miss Eunice Kimble made a flying trip to Scranton last week.

Last Saturday the ladies of Paupac were invited to spend the day with Mrs. Waite Hawley, those who went were Mrs. Kipp Rether Killam, Mrs. A. Killam, Mrs. Nye, Mrs. Kimble, and Mrs. Pellet. The day was cold and windy, the sleighing was fine. They all enjoyed it immensely.

Mrs. B. K. Pellet of Scranton is spending a few days in this place, the guest of Mrs. C. A. Pellet.

A young man was arrested for slander a few days ago and taken before the justice of the peace, but I believe the justice has not decided the case yet.

Mrs. A. J. Kimble and daughter Eunice are anticipating a western trip in a few weeks. They will make Murphysboro Ill. their destination.

A little boy son of H. J. Gumbel had a narrow escape while on his way to school. The other morning he came to the top of the hill by the White school house, a team with a wagon was going down so he waited awhile then layed on his side with his head down never looking where he was going, but went straight through under the wagon and out between the horses without a scratch, but a big fright he turned around with a white face to the driver and said why I thought you was down.

Why Shouldn't She?
Vice President Stevenson tells a good story of himself. He was on his way to Alaska last summer, when a reception was given him in one of the cities of the far northwest. He had shaken hands with several hundred people when a little old lady came along. She looked at him with a quizzical air.

"Are you the vice-president of the United States?" she finally asked.

"I have that honor," said Mr. Stevenson modestly.

"Wah!" said the old lady, with a dubious shake of her head. "I wouldn't have thought it; I wouldn't have thought it."

If a comet with one chance in 20,000,000 of hitting the earth can do it it deserves to be encouraged. Such luck is impossible save in Sunday school books.

The worst blow English letters, or rather the literature of England has received is the encomium Max Nordau heaps on poet Laureate Austin as the "most perfect embodiment of Anglo-Saxonism in literature." If Austin is the most perfect embodiment, what is the worst?

Whether you win wealth or not will depend upon your comprehension of the great underlying principles of business and the adjustment of your affairs in reference thereto. All of our readers are desirous of obtaining his or her share of the world's good things. This can only be done by keeping pace with this progressive age. One's own individual efforts will not suffice. What is needed is co-operation. You should keep posted on all things that you may need to buy. It is a well established fact that the consumer (those who buy at retail) are paying in these United States from one to twenty-five per cent. more than is necessary, simply from the fact that they do not keep posted on current prices. How long could a merchant avoid failure were he to use such lax methods in making his purchases? One would quickly say such a dealer was a failure from the beginning, then why do you use this method in a small way? It would cost you but the request to keep pace with the times in the way of prices on all staple articles you are apt to use. All that is needed is to notify BROWN & ARMSTRONG, general merchants, Milford, Pa., and you will receive a monthly price sheet. They issue this the first of each month. They are also pleased at all times to furnish samples and to fill promptly all orders received by mail.
